

I value family time in my home. I'm offended when that can be interrupted by a telemarketer selling material goods and/or services.